

All-new Honda Jazz. Full of Surprises.

Available with an incredibly fuel
efficient and powerful
1.3 litre or 1.5 litre
i-VTEC engine.

Car of the Year Japan
for 2007-2008

If you're looking for a sporty car that also has a spacious cabin or something with a lot of power and amazing fuel efficiency too, you'd be glad to know there's one car that satisfies all your contradictory needs. Introducing the all-new Honda Jazz, winner of Japan's Car of the Year 2007-2008. The dynamic, forward-shifted body creates a refined, streamlined posture, while its newly improved suspension delivers an even smoother ride. Step inside and you'll discover a wide open space far beyond your expectations. Simply rearrange the ULTR seats with one swift action and you'll have a roomy, versatile interior that'll meet your ever changing needs. And there's plenty of legroom and headroom to keep you and your passengers comfortable even on the longest journeys.

The Honda Jazz is even more powerful than before with the new 120ps 1.5 litre i-VTEC engine and the 100ps 1.3 litre i-VTEC engine. The new electronically controlled 5-speed automatic transmission with steering mounted paddle shifters is standard, making the Jazz not only more fuel efficient but also a lot more fun to drive. Best of all, the Honda Jazz is also safer thanks to its large diameter front disc brakes and rear disc brakes coupled with ABS and EBD. So why not take it for a test drive today? But don't be surprised if you find yourself completely captivated by the amazing all-new Honda Jazz.
